PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

- Need to connect an older VGA computer or laptop to a modern HDMI TV, monitor, or projector? This VGA to HDMI Adapter converts VGA video output to HDMI display input with audio support.
- Supports common HD resolutions including 720P, 1080i, and 1080P, making it useful for presentations, office work, classroom display, and basic screen connection.
- Comes with audio support through stereo R/L channel input, allowing sound to be sent together with video to the HDMI display.
- Designed for VGA source devices such as desktop PCs, older laptops, and compatible VGA output devices that need to connect to HDMI screens.
- Includes USB power support for stable operation during signal conversion.
- Useful for offices, schools, churches, meeting rooms, home setups, technicians, and users with older computers.
- ⚠ Important: This adapter works one way only — from VGA source device to HDMI display. It does not convert HDMI source to VGA monitor.
- ⚠ VGA does not carry audio by itself, so the audio cable must be connected when sound is needed.
- ☑ Advantage: VGA to HDMI conversion + audio support + 1080P display support = practical adapter for connecting older computers to modern HDMI screens.
